

The Cost of Forgiveness

Matthew 18:21-35
YouVersion outline - May 26, 2019

In Matthew 18:21-35, Jesus is answering Peter's question on forgiveness. How often do I have to forgive a brother or sister who continues to sin against me?

Jesus reminds the disciples (and us) of the debt that was forgiven by His Father and charges us to remember that Forgiven people are forgiving people!

The Question (Matthew 18:21-22)

The Debt (Matthew 18:23-27)

"But herein lies the problem: If we don't know and understand the immensity of our own debts of sin, we don't have a chance of having forgiving hearts." Aaron Sironi

Colossians 2:13-14
Isaiah 43:25

The Demand (Matthew 18:28-30)

Luke 23:24

The Decision (Matthew 18:31-35)

Remember – forgiven people are forgiving people!

Colossians 3:12-14
Ephesians 4:32
